

CALLING ALL STUDENTS...

We need you!

The Buffalo Museum of Science is extending a volunteer/field experience opportunity in local community centers as part of its Science in the City initiative. We need dedicated and enthusiastic students to join our team.

Our flexible scheduling, after-school hours, minimal time commitment and creative freedom make this position perfect for college students. A science or education background is preferred, but others are encouraged to apply. Recruitment is taking place now.

For more information, contact Monika McFoy at 896-5200, Ext. 343 -ormmcfoy@sciencebuff.org

Science in the City is a division of the Buffalo Museum of Science's Center for Science Learning.